Foreword

The present volume has been produced by the International Committee of the Egyptian Library Association.

Up-to-date, authoritative library directories are a serious need. They inform readers and researchers of what is available, where, when and how. They define and highlight the information profession, presenting it as one that reaches out, assists and informs.

It is natural and appropriate that professional associations should sponsor and encourage such projects, and we hope this will be the first of many. The information professionals who worked to produce this Directory may be sure that their efforts will be silently blessed by everyone who uses it.

This Directory of International Libraries complements the Directory of Egyptian Libraries published by the Cabinet Information Decision and Support Center in the spring of 1997.

Shahira el Sawy
Chair, International Committee
(Director, American University in Cairo Library)

Introduction

In 1996 the International Committee was founded as one of the fourteen subcommittees of the Egyptian Library Association. The Library Association plays an important role in promoting the importance of libraries and the library profession and in helping librarians to continue to develop their skills. Every librarian in Egypt can apply for a membership. All members of the subcommittees should be a member of the mother organization.

The International Committee is open to all international libraries based in Egypt. This library may be independent or part of a foreign academic institution, educational or teaching establishment, an embassy, a government, NGO, multinational or private business, or a religious or archaeological institution or research center.

The first introductory meeting of the International Committee was held on March 24, 1996. The board consists of a chairperson: Mrs. Shahira el Sawy (AUC); a secretary: Mrs. Anita Keizers (NIAASC), and the liaison with the Egyptian Library Association: Dr. Aida Nosseir (AUC). The board meets monthly. The following officers represent the different libraries in bimonthly meetings: Mrs. Soad Saada (USAID), Mrs. Hoda Fahmy (European Union), Mrs. Sandra Gamal (CAC), Mrs. Helga Schilhansl (Goethe Institute), Mrs. Ghada Sherbiny (Goethe Institute), Mrs. Belen Fernandez Del Pino (Instituto Cervantes), Mrs. Fatma el Sewifi (UN), Mr. Philippe Lacour (Cultural Department, French Embassy).

The following categorization of libraries is used:

1- School and University Libraries
2- Cultural and Information Centers
3- International Organizations and Institutions
4- Research Institutes
5- Archaeological Institutes

The objectives of the Committee:

1- informing foreign librarians in Egypt and informing international librarians visiting Egypt of new developments in libraries;
2- sharing resources;
3- networking;
4-participating actively in various Egyptian professional meetings, discussing and deciding aspects of the information society that affect international libraries in Egypt and their public.

Application of the objectives:

a- compilation of a directory of international libraries in Egypt (a questionnaire was compiled for that purpose to be filled out by all libraries and sent to the International Committee);
b- distribution of a newsletter/circular on a regular basis to international libraries in Egypt as well as embassy libraries;
c- organization of an annual event or meeting for all the libraries and information centers.
